

Cross-disciplinary methodologies:
When Communication and History come together

January 10, 2019

9.00 - Registration

9.20 - Welcome Address

9.30 - Presentation of the Research Project BiPE - Broadcasting in the Portuguese Empire:
Nationalism, Colonialism, Identity
Nelson Ribeiro, Universidade Católica Portuguesa

9.45 - Panel: Researching Broadcasting and Empire
Chair: Sílvia Santos, Universidade de Coimbra

Participants:

Simon Potter, University of Bristol - Broadcasting in the British Empire: sources and debates
Vincent Kuitenbrouwer, University of Amsterdam - The glass house revisited: radio broadcasting and the blind spots in the late colonial state in the Netherlands Indies, 1920s and 1930s.

Morgan Corriou, Université Paris 8 - Researching colonial broadcasting in its intermedial environment: the case of Tunisia under the French Protectorate

11.15 - Coffee Break

11.30 - Roundtable: Researching Media History: Methodological challenges
Chair: Ana Isabel Reis, Universidade do Porto

Participants:

Carolyn Birdsall, University of Amsterdam
Hans-Ulrich Wagner, University of Hamburg
Luís Trindade, Birkbeck - University of London
Maria Inácia Rezola, Instituto Politécnico de Lisboa

13.00 - Lunch

14.15 - Media, História e Impérios Modernos: O elo negligenciado [Media, History and Modern Empires: the neglected link]
José Luís Garcia, ICS - Universidade de Lisboa
Chair: Nelson Ribeiro

15.15 - Coffee Break

15.30 - Roundtable: Archives, History and Memory
Chair: Rogério Santos, Universidade Católica Portuguesa

Participants:

Alfredo Caldeira, Arquivo Fundação Mário Soares
Eduardo Leite, RTP Sound Archive
Paulo Tremoceiro, Torre do Tombo Archives

16.45 - Closing Remarks